Duties of the Maſter and Matron.

I.

THAT the Maſter and Matron of the Work-houſe do conſtantly reſide therein, and never lie out, or be both abſent at the ſame time.

II. That the Maſter do ſerve the Poor their Breakfaſts in the Hall every morning before eight o'clock in the Summer, and nine o'clock in the Winter;—and that, on meat-days, with the aſſiſtance of the Matron, he cut out, weigh, and diſtribute the allowance for each perſon's dinner.

III. That the Maſter do receive the bread, meat, and all other proviſions from the different tradeſmen, and ſee they are full weight, and of good quality; and that he enter the receipts and expenditure in the pantry-book daily.

IV. That the Maſter do not receive any proviſions, clothing, or other neceſſaries for the uſe of the Houſe, without a bill of parcels, expreſſing the quantity, quality, and price: that he take care to file the ſame, and immediately enter the ſeveral articles in books provided for that purpoſe; which books are to be at all times ready for the inſpection of the Governors and Directors, Overſeers of the Poor, and Veſtry-clerk; and that, at the end of every quarter, he make out an account of the number of loaves, weight of meat, and all other articles of proviſions conſumed in the Houſe (alſo the average number of Poor during that time) and deliver the ſame, with the bills of parcels, to the Veſtry-clerk, who ſhall check them with the tradeſmens bills, and preſent them to the ſaid Governors and Directors, to be audited.

V. That

V. That the Maſter go early on market mornings, and purchaſe ſuch good and wholeſome vegetables as are neceſſary for the Houſe.

VI. That the Maſter do daily inſpect the conduct of all perſons employed in any line of buſineſs in the Houſe, and take care that a ſufficiency of work is done, and in a proper manner, according to their ſeveral abilities: that he ſee that all the ſervants or perſons employed in the Houſe perform their duty in their ſeveral departments, and cauſe the ſeveral orders of the Governors and Directors, and the Overſeers of the Poor, to be effectually carried into execution: And if any perſon or perſons ſhall be refractory or negligent in their duty, that he admoniſh and enjoin them to be orderly and obſervant; and if they ſtill neglect the ſame, that he do report their behaviour to the Overſeers.

VII. That no Pauper be admitted into the Work-houſe without an order ſigned by one of the Overſeers of the Poor for the time being, or by their joint direction when aſſembled at any meeting, except on extreme emergency; and that the Maſter, after he has entered ſuch admiſſions in a book, do place all ſuch orders on a file, and bring ſuch perſon or perſons for examination on the firſt meeting of the Overſeers.

VIII. That the Maſter do ſeveral times, in ever week, viſit the Wards; and if he ſhall diſcover an neglect in the Nurſes, or improper conduct in an
of the Paupers, that he report the ſame to th Overſeers.

IX. That the Maſter and Matron do take notic and report to the Overſeers daily, ſuch perſons a they conceive are able to maintain themſelves out o the Houſe.

X. That the Maſter keep an account of pett diſburſements for neceſſaries, monies allowed to th Nurſes, and other perſons who work in the Houſ
as ſettled by the Governors and Directors, or Ove ſeers of the Poor; which account the Maſter ſha make out every week, and lay the ſame before th
Overſeers for payment.

XI. That no perſon be permitted to viſit t
Paupers in the Houſe, on any account whateve without the knowledge of the Maſter; or, in h abſence, without the permiſſion of the Matron.

XII. That the Maſter and Matron cauſe
Paupers going out to be ſtrictly ſearched, to p vent proviſions, clothing, or any other thing b

longing to the Houſe (not allowed) being taken out.

XIII. That no Pauper whatever be permitted to go out of the Houſe on any pretence, but on Sundays, Tueſdays, and Thurſdays, except the Overſeers, or one of them, ſhall give leave (or that they are ſent out by the Maſter or Matron upon buſineſs relating to the Houſe); that they go out between the hours of ſeven and eleven o'clock in the morning, and return by eight o'clock in the evening during the ſummer; and between the hours of eight and eleven o'clock in the morning, and return by ſeven o'clock in the evening during the winter; and that they be allowed half their uſual daily weight of bread without any other part of their proviſions on ſuch days.

XIV. That ſuch Paupers as may be deſirous to go out, ſhall apply to the Maſter the preceding day before five o'clock in the afternoon, that their names, with the number of the Ward in which they are lodged, may be entered in a book; and if any ſhall preſume to go out without ſuch application, or without the permiſſion of the Overſeers of the Poor, or one of them, or ſhall not return at or before the time appointed, ſuch perſon ſhall not be admitted again without an order from an Overſeer.

XV. That if any perſon ſhall return drunk or diſorderly, or behave improperly in the Houſe, the Maſter ſhall report the ſame to the Overſeers at their next Meeting, that they may be puniſhed in ſuch manner as ſhall be judged requiſite.

XVI. That the Maſter do on every Wedneſday take an exact account of the number of Paupers in the Houſe, and enter the ſame in a book, to be laid before the Governors and Directors.

XVII. That the Maſter do make a calculation in a book, from the daily return of the number of Poor in the Houſe, of the quantity of proviſions wanted for the enſuing day (making deductions for ſuch as go out, and ſuch as receive pence in lieu of meat) that no more be ordered than what will be neceſſary; and that ſuch book be laid every day before the Overſeers for their inſpection.

XVIII. That all perſons who are able, do conſtantly come into the Hall at the ſtated times on meat days, where they are to eat their dinners, that the number of ſick and infirm perſons who remain in the ſeveral Wards be aſcertained, in order to prevent the nurſes and others from obtaining clandeſtinely more allowances than are neceſſary.

XIX. That a painted Board be fixed over the fire-place in the Hall, ſtating, that "Whoever ſhall be de-"tected in taking out of the Workhouſe, any bread, "cheeſe, or other proviſions, under pretence that

"the

" the ſame is the allowance given them, or in taking " out of the Houſe any ſort of linen, apparel, fur- " niture, or other things belonging thereto, will " be proſecuted with the utmoſt ſeverity;—and " a reward will be given on conviction of the " offenders, to ſuch perſons as ſhall make the diſ- " covery."

XX. That the Maſter, aſſiſted by the Nurſe of the Ward, do take an Inventory in a Book of the goods, clothing, monies, or other effects, of every perſon dying in the Houſe; and that ſuch inventory, with the articles therein mentoned, be brought to the Overſeers at their next Meeting.

XXI. That the Maſter or Matron do not ſell or diſpoſe of any old linen, woollen, or other property belonging to the Workhouſe, or ſuffer any other perſon or perſons ſo to do; but do report the ſtock from time to time to the Overſeers, to be diſpoſed of for the benefit of theſe Pariſhes.

XXII. That the Maſter and Matron do not ſuffer any perſon, maintained in the Houſe, to take any linen, or other work, to make or mend for their own benefit and advantage; and ſuch linen, or other work being found, ſhall be detained, and the Overſeers acquainted therewith; that the Maſter and Matron do not take any linen, or other work, to make for their benefit and advantage; and that

that all monies received for work done in the Houſe, ſhall be brought forward to the Overſeers weekly.

XXIII. That the Maſter and Matron do not ſuffer cards, dice, or any other games in the Houſe.

XXIV. That the Maſter keep a book, or books, of the Births, Chriſtenings, and Burials of the Paupers.

XXV. That the Maſter and Matron take care that the Paupers go to reſt at the hour of Eight o'Clock in the Evening, from Michaelmas to Lady-Day; and at the hour of Nine o'Clock from Lady-Day to Michaelmas; and ſee that all the fires and candles in the ſeveral Wards are extinguiſhed immediately after, except in ſuch Sick Wards as require candles during the night.

XXVI. That the Maſter and Matron place the Sick Poor in Wards ſet apart for that purpoſe, and not ſuffer the ſick and well to be together.

XXVII. That neither the Maſter or Matron do ſuffer any immoral language or conduct, at any time, in the Houſe; and that they ſtrictly enjoin all the Paupers, who are able, to attend Divine Service in the Hall every Sunday.

XXVIII. That

XXVIII. That neither the Maſter, Matron, or any other perſon in the Houſe, be allowed any perquiſite, profit, or emolument whatever, except as hereinafter mentioned.

XXIX. That the Maſter and Matron do ſtrictly attend to all the Rules, Orders, and Regulations, as herein mentioned, and not ſuffer any innovations whatever.

Duty of the Matron.

I. THAT the Matron, with the concurrence of the Maſter, appoint proper Nurſes, and that ſhe daily inſpect their conduct and behaviour, with reſpect to the Poor under their care.

II. That the Matron ſee that all the beds and furniture, wards, rooms, infirmaries, and other parts of the Houſe, are kept clean and decent. That in Summer-time, the Poor be ordered into the Hall immediately after breakfaſt, and employed according to their ſeveral abilities until dinner-time; during which interval the windows of all the Wards ſhall be opened, and the beds waſhed under.

III. That the Matron take care that the Poor are kept clean in their perſons and apparel.

IV. That

IV. That the Matron keep an account of the receipt and diſpoſal of all ſuch articles as are entruſted to her care; which ſhall be laid before the Overſeers when called for.

V. That the Matron take an account of all the linen to be waſhed, and deliver the ſame to proper people for that purpoſe, and ſee that the ſame is well done, and ſufficiently aired.

VI. That the Matron take care that every perſon in the Houſe have clean linen, once a Week; that the ſheets be changed once a Month, or oftener, if neceſſary; and that no linen be dried in any of the Wards.

VII. That the Matron diſtribute to the Nurſes for the Sick Poor, ſuch quantities of wine, barley, herbs, and other neceſſaries (not under the Maſter's care) as the Houſe Apothecary ſhall order under his hand; which orders are to be kept on a file, and delivered once a Week to the Maſter, to be entered in the Pantry-Book.

VIII. That the Matron cut out the cloth for ſhirts, ſhifts, ſheets, &c. (agreeable to Rules laid down in a book kept for that purpoſe) and take care that they are well made, and no waſte committed; and when done, that ſhe deliver them with an account thereof to the Overſeers, to be entered in a book.

IX. That

IX. That ſhe ſee that the old linen, likewiſe he wearing apparel, be properly repaired and mended.

X. That ſhe ſuperintend and keep an account of the ſlop-work and ſilk-winders; and ſee that the women that are able to work be fully employed, and do their work well.

XI. That the Matron ward the Paupers, upon their admiſſion, and inform the Maſter; who ſhall enter them in a Book accordingly.

XII. That the Matron is enjoined to report to the Overſeers all diſobedience of orders in her department.

The Porter's Duty.

I. THAT he attend at the gate all day, and never go out without the leave of one of the Overſeers, and then leave a careful man at the gate during his abſence, to be approved by the Maſter.

II. That the Porter and his aſſiſtant lie in the Lodge; that he double lock the gate every night before he goes to reſt; and that he report to the the Maſter every morning the names of ſuch Paupers as have been out all night; alſo thoſe who come home drunk or diſorderly.

III. That he let no perſon whatever bring in any thing to the Paupers without the Orders of the Overſeers or Maſter; that he carefully examine what is carried out by the Paupers, or any other perſon; and if he has any reaſon to ſuſpect they have any Houſe-proviſions or property about them contrary to the orders of the Governors and Directors, and the Overſeers, to ſtop them, and immediately inform the Maſter thereof. That he be particularly careful that no ſpirituous liquors be brought into the Houſe, except in very ſmall quantities, by way of medicine, when ordered by the Houſe Apothecary.

IV. That he report to the Maſter when any perſons who are placed at the Lodge in order to aſſiſt him, are negligent in their duty, or behave any way improperly; as he will always be looked upon as reſponſible for their conduct.

V. That he do not ſuffer any Pauper to go out or come into the Houſe on the Sabbath-day during divine ſervice; and no viſitor at any time without an order from an Overſeer, or the permiſſion of the Maſter or Matron.

The

The Duty of the Nurſes.

I. THAT the Nurſes in the ſeveral Wards be particularly attentive to the perſons under their care, and forthwith acquaint the Maſter and Matron of the death of any of their patients, that the Maſter may cauſe the corpſe to be removed and laid out, and a coffin and ſhroud provided as ſoon as poſſible.

II. That the ſeveral Nurſes deliver to the Maſter in the Committee-Room all the Clothes, Money, and Effects that belong to ſuch deceaſed perſon, and aſſiſt the Maſter in taking an inventory thereof to lay before the Overſeers; and if any Nurſe ſhall be found to have embezzled any clothes, money, or effects belonging to the deceaſed, that ſuch Nurſe ſhall be diſcharged from her office, and otherwiſe puniſhed as the Governors and Directors, or the Overſeers, may think proper.

III. That the Nurſes take care that their ſeveral Wards are kept clean and wholeſome, by having the windows open at all ſeaſonable times; and alſo ſee that the Poor under their care keep themſelves clean.

IV. That no Nurſe be permitted to go out without leave of the Maſter or Matron, who ſhall judge of of the propriety of the application, and determin accordingly.

V. That the Nurſes be careful of the coal candles, and other neceſſaries committed to the charge; as no more will be allowed than what hereinafter mentioned, on any occaſion whatever.

| Average number yearly | 280 |

280 Perſons conſume 9240 half peck loaves, weighing 139 ounces each, at the rate of 33 loaves each perſon per year, the Maſter and Matron included.

Note. From 50 to 60 perſons have leave to go out on meat days, three times in every week, who receive only half their daily allowance on ſuch days.

Flour.

One pound weight to every three perſons, with an allowance of ten pounds extra in winter, and nine pounds in ſummer, for the puddings on Saturdays.

Four pounds weight in winter, and three pounds and an half in ſummer, for the peaſe-ſoup on Mondays.

Ditto for the rice milk on Wedneſdays.

280 perſons conſume near 22 ſacks of flour yearly, viz. 10 ſacks in ſummer, and 12 in winter.

Meat.

Half a pound to each perſon on Sundays, Tueſdays, and Thurſdays, except ſuch as go out, or receive one penny in lieu thereof.

One pound extra allowed to every ſtone for waſte.
One ſtone of mutton extra weekly for the ſick, if wanted.
Two ſtone of ſuet for the puddings on Saturdays.
Two legs of beef for the peaſe-ſoup on Mondays.
Roaſt beef, 12 ounces to every perſon (without any allowance for waſte) on Eaſter-Sunday, Whitſunday, and Chriſtmas-day.
Bacon, ſix ounces to each perſon (without any allowance for waſte) on Shrove-Tueſday, and on peaſe and beans days.

N. B. Mutton is allowed one Sunday in a fortnight inſtead of beef.

2301 ſtone of meat at 44ſt. 2lb. per week.
52 ſtone of mutton extra for the ſick, if wanted.
104 ſtone of ſuet for the puddings.
6 ditto extra for the puddings at Eaſter, Whitſuntide, and Chriſtmas.

2463 ſtone conſumed yearly by 280 perſons.
104 legs of beef.

Note.

Note. The average number of perſons who go out on meat-days, or receive one penny in lieu of meat, is at the rate of 70 per day, which reduces the number 280 to 210 who conſtantly have meat.

Butter.

Two ounces on Mondays and Fridays to every perſon.

Two ounces extra on Wedneſdays to ſuch perſons as cannot eat cheeſe, or prefer an extra allowance to the receiving cheeſe during the week.

Every perſon who receives an extra allowance of butter on Wedneſdays (by their own choice) gives up their weekly allowance of cheeſe; which occaſions the conſumption of butter to be greater in proportion than the cheeſe.

Many of the above perſons, from various cauſes, do not conſtantly receive butter at the ſtated times; by which ſeveral firkins may be ſaved in the year.

Cheeſe.

Two ounces to every perſon on Sundays, Tueſdays, Wedneſdays, Thurſdays, and Saturdays, except ſuch as cannot eat cheeſe, infants in arms, perſons going out, and thoſe who receive an extra allowance of butter on Wedneſdays in lieu of cheeſe during the week.

280 Perſons, out of which it is probable not more than 200 will receive cheeſe, the remaining 80 perſons receive two ounces of butter each on Wedneſdays, in lieu of cheeſe.
